Eddie Butler - Broadcaster & former Welsh Rugby International

Eddie was educated at Monmouth School and Fitzwilliam College, Cambridge. He played for the Cambridge XV for three years and was awarded three rugby Blues. Playing at Number 8, he captained Pontypool RFC taking over from Jeff Squire. He was capped 16 times for Wales, captaining the team on six occasions and was also chosen for the Barbarians and the British Lions.

Together with Brian Moore, Eddie is presently a BBC sports commentator. Since 1991 he has written a weekly column in the rugby union section of The Observer and he also writes for The Guardian. He has presented two popular history series: Wales and the History of the World and Hidden Histories.
